

Actions speak louder than words.

This saying means what a person does tells you what the person is truly like.

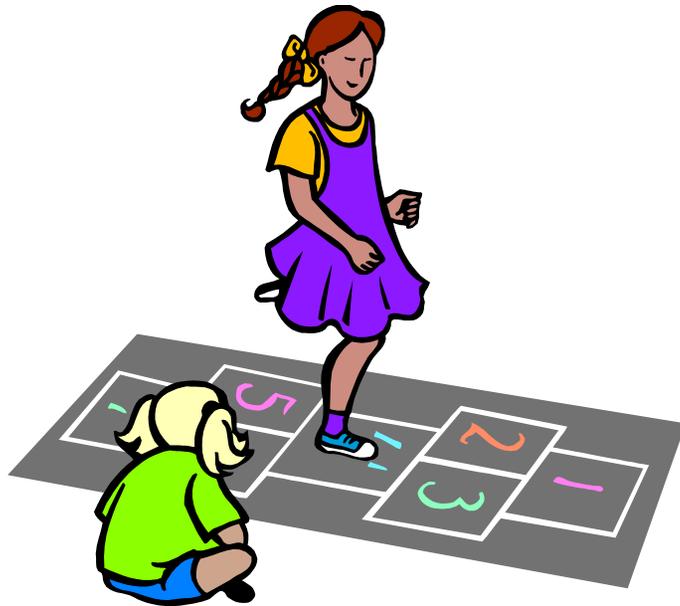

Beggars can't be choosers.

This saying means that when you need help you should not be picky.

Let bygones be bygones.

This saying means that people should forget about the bad feelings they have for each other and try to be friends.

Look before you leap.

This saying means that you should be careful and think about things before you do something.

One rotten apple spoil the whole barrel.

This saying means that one bad person can spoil a good group.

A place for everything and everything in its place.

This saying means you should put everything where they belong.

Don't beat around the bush.

This saying means that someone is trying to avoid talking about something.

He gave me the cold shoulder.

This saying means that someone is ignoring you.

The Fifth Book of Sayings

Book of Sayings

Don't beat around the bush.