

The Caterpillar

A caterpillar crawled to the top of a tree,

"I think I'll take a nap," said he.

So under a leaf, he began to creep to spin his chrysalis and he fell asleep.

For a long time he slept in his chrysalis bed.

Till spring came along one day, and said,

"Wake up, wake up little sleepy head."

"Wake up; it's time to get out of bed!"

So, he opened his eyes that sun shiny day.

WOW, he was a butterfly and flew away!
